Brand core

TAGLINE	Fix the friction. Keep the gear.
---------	----------------------------------

Setup Sahla is a practical guide for people in Egypt who already own usable PC or laptop gear and want to remove one daily setup problem at a time. The name pairs the familiar category word setup with sahla - easy - without pretending every technical choice is effortless.

Positioning

Evidence-led, locally available setup fixes for ports, posture, heat, cable clutter, and input comfort. Egypt is the launch market. MENA-aware describes design readiness and cultural fluency, not region-wide demand evidence.

Promise

Start with the symptom. Check compatibility. Show the trade-off. Offer the smallest credible fix. A recommendation is useful only when the reader can also see who should skip it.

Personality

Calm expert	Decisive after the evidence, candid before it.
Workshop host	Warm, organized, and specific about what connects where.
Friction hunter	Notices the irritating five-minute problems that compound every day.
Budget-respectful	Keeps working gear in service instead of glorifying replacement.
Locally grounded	Makes EGP, availability, and Egypt retailer context explicit.

Logo system

SETUP SAHLA

FIX THE FRICTION. KEEP THE GEAR.

VISUAL IDEA

One line, one solved path. A continuous cable line resolves into an S, connector, underline, route, or diagram path.

Usage rules

- Use the full logo on cream or warm paper at 220px or wider. Below that, use the compact mark plus live-text brand name.
- Keep at least two cable-stroke diameters around the mark and three around the full lockup.
- Do not rotate, stretch, outline, bevel, glow, add gradients, or combine it with retailer/product marks.
- On dark backgrounds, reverse the wordmark and tagline to cream; lime and cyan stay unchanged.
- For one-color use, preserve the cable as a knockout or remove the tile; never bury same-color cable geometry inside a solid tile.

Color system

Ink #101411	Warm paper #E9DFCA	Signal lime #C9FF4A	Cool cyan #66D9E8	Clean cream #FFFDF7
Primary text and inverse surface	Workshop panels and evidence bands	Primary action and solved route	Data and compatibility accent	Main canvas and report background

Accessible pairings

Ink on cream	18.27:1	All text and icons
Ink on warm paper	14.04:1	All text and icons
Ink on signal lime	15.83:1	Buttons, labels, small text
Cyan on ink	11.20:1	Data labels, connector detail, inverse links

Lime and cyan are accents, not default text colors on cream. Status never relies on color alone; pair it with a label, icon, line pattern, or shape.

Typography and layout

Display	Arial Narrow / Roboto Condensed / Bahnschrift Condensed / Arial	Short H1/H2, forceful utility headings
Body and UI	Inter / Segoe UI / Arial	Natural sentence case; 1.58 line height
Arabic	Noto Sans Arabic / Tahoma / Arial	Preserve shaping; never letter-space Arabic
Data and IDs	Cascadia Mono / Consolas	Evidence IDs, dates, ports, dimensions

Signature components

Friction ticket	Names a symptom or gate: SOLVES / TOO FEW PORTS, CHECK FIRST / LAPTOP SIZE, SKIP IF / ...
Cable route	Connects symptom -> compatibility gate -> fix -> retailer choice. Every stop has a text label.
Evidence label	Pairs evidence ID, checked date, source status, currency, and snapshot date.
Sturdy card	Uses 16px radius, 2px ink border for key decisions, 1px neutral border for supporting content, and a hard-edged shadow.

Voice and editorial system

VOICE IN ONE LINE

Name the friction, check the gate, explain the fit, show the exit.

1. Problem before product

Start with the symptom in the reader's language. Introduce a category or model only after the problem is clear.

2. Specific, not absolute

Say what a source supports and label the point where editorial judgment begins.

3. Compatibility before conversion

Put the decision gate and a reader-verifiable check before every retailer link.

4. Dated, not live-looking

Label price, stock, seller, rating, and returns as observations with capture dates.

5. Useful without a click

Every page helps the reader diagnose, verify, or skip a purchase.

1	Friction
2	Quick verdict
3	Compatibility gate
4	Trade-offs and skip guidance
5	Affiliate disclosure
6	Provider snapshot
7	Named-retailer CTA
8	Evidence and checked date

Commercial language controls

DIRECT-LINK DISCLOSURE	DIRECT_LINK — AFFILIATE ID REQUIRED. Buying links currently go directly to the retailer. Setup Sahla does not yet earn from these links. Affiliate tracking may be added only after program, territory, and finished-link verification.
---------------------------	---

NOON EGYPT SAFEGUARD	Unverified — public terms do not establish Egypt eligibility
----------------------	--

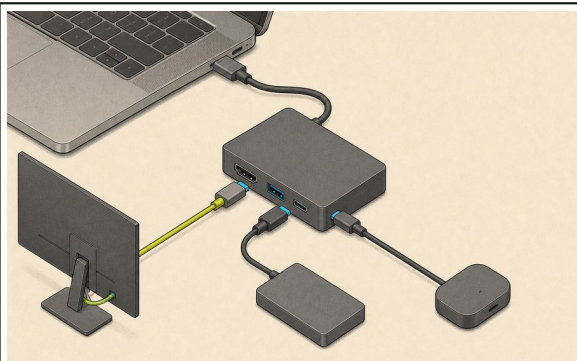

Check current price on Amazon Egypt	Buy now
View the exact listing on Noon Egypt	Grab it
Check compatibility before choosing	Works with all laptops
EGP [amount] snapshot observed on [date]	Only EGP [amount] today
Editorial fit judgment: ...	Best for everyone

Arabic-aware behavior

- Use real Arabic terms only when natural; do not force slang or transliteration.
- A full Arabic component uses lang=ar and dir=rtl, preserves shaping, and keeps USB/HDMI/model strings isolated left-to-right.
- Research capture includes Arabic queries, but the launch demand evidence remains qualitative and Egypt-specific.

Original creative system

The visual story is friction becoming a route. Public launch art is original and category-generic: no retailer logos, copied listing compositions, exact packaging, prices, stock, badges, or unsupported performance readouts.

Creative and rights checklist

- Origin record includes slot ID, prompt, generator or artist, generation date, and retained source file.
- Rights status is exactly ORIGINAL; any other status returns to rights review.
- No Amazon, Noon, manufacturer, product, certification, or operating-system logo appears.
- The object is category-generic and does not mimic distinctive protected industrial design.
- Ports, plugs, cable direction, gravity, fan placement, and device scale remain physically plausible.
- No visual promises charging, speed, temperature, adhesion, comfort, or compatibility.
- No price, stock, seller, review rating, scarcity, CTA, or promotional claim is baked into the image.
- Required desktop and mobile crops preserve the essential subject and safe area.
- Alt text is written or the asset is intentionally decorative.

FALLBACK	If an asset's origin or permission cannot be verified, withdraw it and use the original cable-line fallback.
